YOUR ROLE:

A customer-focused and assertive personality, you manage your projects with a healthy mix of wit, charm and professionalism. You turn loose ideas into concepts and strategies into stories. You advise our clients as a sparring partner at eye level. And you always keep a watchful eye on deadlines and budgets, balancing creative flights of fancy with the necessary pragmatism.

WHAT WE VALUE:

- A university degree, ideally with a focus on economics or business,
- ideally prior experience in consulting or with an agency,
- structured yet creative thinking,
- enthusiasm, energy, team spirit, and a sense of humor,
- fluency in German and professional proficiency in English,
- and a passion for storytelling in all its forms (visual arts, movies, pop culture).

WHAT'S IN IT FOR YOU:

- The chance to work in an interdisciplinary team – and in an equally interdisciplinary field,
- tasks that challenge both your analytical and your creative thinking,
- a trusting working environment with a lot of flexibility,
- fair remuneration,
- recording of working hours and full compensation for any overtime,
- complemented Christmas holidays and the possibility of unpaid leave,
- an almost endless coffee and snack supply,
- and a crash course in storytelling, visualisation, gamification and film production.
